Clerk, U.S. District Court
District Of Montana
Missoula

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MONTANA
GREAT FALLS DIVISION

MAURICE RONALD ARCHER,

Petitioner,

vs.

TIMOTHY FOX, ATTORNEY
GENERAL, STATE OF MONTANA;
HON. MIKE MCGRATH, CHIEF
JUSTICE, the SUPREME COURT
STATE OF MONTANA, et. al.,

Respondents.

Cause No. CV-17-108-BMM-JTJ

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Plaintiff Maurice Ronald Archer, a state prisoner proceeding pro se, see (Doc. 12), filed a Complaint alleging irregularities in his state criminal proceedings. (Doc. 6). The Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted and should be dismissed.

I. Initial Screening

Because Archer is a prisoner proceeding in forma pauperis the Court must review his Complaint under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1915, 1915A. Sections 1915A(b) and 1915(e)(2)(B) require the Court to dismiss a complaint filed in forma pauperis and/or by a prisoner against a governmental defendant before it is served if it is frivolous or malicious, fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief.

A complaint is frivolous if it “lacks an arguable basis either in law or in fact.” Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 325 (1989). A complaint is malicious if not pleaded in good faith. Kinney v. Plymouth Rock Squab. Co., 236 U.S. 43, 46 (1915). A complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted if a plaintiff fails to allege the “grounds” of his “entitlement to relief.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007) (quotation omitted).

Rule 8 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides that a complaint “that states a claim for relief must contain . . . a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the [plaintiff] is entitled to relief.” Fed.R.Civ.P. 8(a)(2). In order to satisfy the requirements in Rule 8 a complaint’s allegations must cross “the line from conceivable to plausible.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 680 (2009). There is a two-step procedure to determine whether a complaint’s allegations cross that line. See Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556; Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662. First, the Court must identify “the allegations in the complaint that are not entitled to the assumption of truth.” Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 679, 680. Factual allegations are not entitled to the assumption of truth if they are “merely consistent with liability,” or “amount to nothing more than a ‘formulaic recitation of the elements’ of a constitutional” claim. Id. at 679, 681. A complaint stops short of the line between probability and the possibility of relief where the facts pled are merely consistent with a defendant’s liability. Id. at 678.

Second, the Court must determine whether the complaint states a “plausible” claim for relief. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 679. A claim is “plausible” if the factual allegations, which are accepted as true, “allow[ ] the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Id. at 678. This inquiry is “a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience and common sense.” Id. at 679 (citation omitted). If the factual allegations, which are accepted as true, “do not permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has alleged—but it has not “show[n]”—“that the pleader is entitled to relief.” Id. (citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 8(a)(2)).

“A document filed pro se is ‘to be liberally construed,’ and ‘a pro se complaint, however inartfully pleaded, must be held to less stringent standards than formal pleadings drafted by lawyers.’ ” Erickson v. Pardu, 551 U.S. 89, 94 (2007); cf. Fed. Rule Civ. Proc. 8(e) (“Pleadings must be construed so as to do justice”).

II. Analysis

A. Factual Background

Plaintiff Archer, along with John Chambers, Charles Clary, Keith Doyle, and Brian Smith, joined in filing the complaint lodged in this matter and sought certification to proceed as a class. (Docs. 6, 7, 8). The Court denied the Plaintiffs' motion for class certification and ordered that the claims be severed. See generally, (Doc. 15). Accordingly, separate cases were opened for each of the named plaintiffs.<sup>1</sup>

In September of 2007, Archer was convicted of Sexual Assault and Incest in Montana's Eighteenth Judicial District, Gallatin County, in Cause No. DC 06-46C. (Doc. 6 at 2).<sup>2</sup> Archer previously challenged his 2007 convictions in this Court via federal habeas corpus petitions under 28 U.S.C. § 2254. Archer's first federal petition was dismissed with prejudice as procedurally defaulted in its entirety. See Archer v. Mahoney, No. CV 09-73-BU-SHE-RKS (D. Mont. Judgment entered Mar. 2, 2010). Archer's second habeas petition was dismissed for lack of jurisdiction as an unauthorized second or successive petition. See Archer v.

Plaintiff Clary subsequently filed a voluntary motion to withdraw his complaint, see Clary v. Fox, et. al., CV-17-117-GF, Or. (March 21, 2018)(granting motion to withdraw).

Berkebile, No. CV 15-51-GF-BMM (D. Mont. Judgment entered September 1, 2015).

In the instant matter Archer complains his state charges were brought “under indictment by information” and that he was deprived of either a “constitutionally mandated preliminary examination before a magistrate” or a “non-perfunctory adversarial hearing before the district judge prior to being indicted by information on judicial order to file the information as the instrument of indictment.” (Doc. 6 at 2). Archer contends that other similarly situated individuals, too numerous to number, have had their due process rights violated by the purported faulty charging manner utilized by the State of Montana and are also entitled to justice. Id. at 4.

Archer asserts Attorney General Timothy Fox, as the chief law enforcement officer in the state, has been made aware of the due process violations that have occurred as a result of the unconstitutional charging practice, by virtue of numerous appeals, post conviction matters, and state habeas petitions that have been filed. Id. at 4-5. Archer complains Attorney General Fox, by both his action and inaction, has allowed the violations to continue. Id. at 5.

Archer complains Montana Supreme Court Chief Justice Mike McGrath knew of the state-wide practice of denying felony defendants either a preliminary examination or comparable hearing in contravention of the “intent of the Framers” of the Montana Constitution and the state constitution itself, and in violation of the due process protection contained in the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution. Id. at 5.

Archer contends the “County Attorneys, County and Municipal Magistrates, and the State District Judges” have continued to follow and utilize the unconstitutional practice of failing to provide a non-perfunctory adversarial hearing prior to making a prima facie determination of guilt based upon probable cause, in violation of federal law and the “intent of the Delegates.” Id.

In support of his claims, Archer cites to violations of the Fourteenth Amendment (Doc. 6 at 6, 9,12); the intent of the Framers of Montana’s 1972 Constitution (Doc. 6 at 6-7,10,14-15; Doc. 6-5); Montana case law (Doc. 6 at 6, 8-9,11,15-16; Doc. 6-8; Doc. 6-9); Art. II, Section 20 of the Montana Constitution (Doc. 6 at 6); Montana statutes (Doc. 6 at 11, 15-16; Doc. 6-4; Doc. 6-6); Montana’s 1889 Constitution and Notes from the 1989 Constitutional Convention (Doc. 6 at 6-7, 12 ,14; Doc. 6-7); as well as federal law (Doc. 6 at 9-13, 15-17; Doc. 6-10).

Archer requests this Court: declare that the conduct, acts, and omissions of the Defendants violated Archer’s rights under the Constitution of the United States (Doc. 6 at 17), grant preliminary and permanent injunctions ordering Defendants to adhere to the constitutionally mandated intent of the delegates and require a non-perfunctory adversarial hearing either before a magistrate or district judge prior to any judicial determination of whether or not to issue an order granting leave to file the information, and provide any other additional relief the Court deems proper.

Id. at 18.

B. Analysis

Archer contends he was charged, and subsequently convicted, following irregular and unconstitutional charging practices. But such a claim is barred under Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477, 486-87 (1994). In Heck, the Supreme Court held:

[I]n order to recover damages for allegedly unconstitutional conviction or imprisonment, or for other harm caused by actions whose unlawfulness would render a conviction or sentence invalid, a § 1983 plaintiff must prove that the conviction or sentence has been reversed on direct appeal, expunged by executive order, declared invalid by a state tribunal authorized to make such determination, or called into question by a federal court's issuance of a writ of habeas corpus, 28 U.S.C. § 2254. A claim for damages bearing that relationship to a conviction or sentence that has not been so invalidated is not cognizable under § 1983. Thus, when a state prisoner seeks damages in a § 1983 suit, the district court must consider whether a judgment in favor of the plaintiff would necessarily imply the invalidity of his conviction or sentence; if it would, the complaint must be dismissed unless the plaintiff can demonstrate that the conviction or sentence has already been invalidated.

512 U.S. at 486-87 (footnotes omitted).

The Ninth Circuit has likewise held, “[I]f a criminal conviction arising out of the same facts stands and is fundamentally inconsistent with the unlawful behavior for which section 1983 damages are sought, the 1983 action must be dismissed.” Smith v. City of Hemet, 394 F. 3d 689, 695 (9th Cir. 2005). “Consequently, ‘the relevant question is whether success in a subsequent § 1983 suit would necessarily imply or demonstrate the invalidity of the earlier conviction or sentence.’” Beets v. County of Los Angeles, 669 F. 3d 1038, 1042 (9th Cir. 2012)(quoting Heck, 512 U.S. at 487).

The pending civil rights action seeking to undermine Archer’s charges and convictions is barred unless and until Archer’s convictions are called into question. Were Archer to prevail in this action, his criminal convictions would necessarily be called into question, which is prohibited by Heck until the convictions are overturned. 512 U.S. at 490.

III. Conclusion

28 U.S.C. §§ 1915 and 1915A require the dismissal of a complaint that fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted but do not deprive the district court of its discretion to grant or deny leave to amend. Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1127 (9th Cir. 2000). The Court can decline to grant leave to amend if “it determines that the pleading could not possibly be cured by the allegation of other facts.” Lopez, 203 F.3d. at 1127 (quoting Doe v. United States, 58 F.3d 494, 497 (9th Cir. 1995)). Leave to amend is liberally granted to pro se litigants unless it is “absolutely clear that the deficiencies of the complaint could not be cured by amendment.” Noll v. Carlson, 809 F.2d 1446, 1448 (9th Cir. 1987) (citing Broughton v. Cutter Labs., 622 F.2d 458, 460 (9th Cir. 1980)).

Archer has failed to state a claim upon which relief may be granted. This is a defect which could not be cured by amendment; leave to amend would be futile. This matter should be dismissed.

“Strike” under 28 U.S.C. §1915(g)

The Prison Litigation Reform Act prohibits prisoners from bringing forma pauperis civil actions if the prisoner has brought three or more actions in federal court that were dismissed for frivolousness, maliciousness, or failure to state a claim. 28 U.S.C. §1915(g). Archer has failed to state a claim upon which relief may be granted and his pleadings are frivolous and present an “obvious bar to securing relief.” Washington v. Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, 833 F.3d 1048, 1055 (9th Cir. 2016)(quoting ASARCO, LLC v. Union Pac. R.R. Co., 765 F.3d 999, 1004 (9th Cir. 2014)). The dismissal of this case should constitute a strike under 28 U.S.C. §1915(g).

Based upon the foregoing, the Court issues the following:

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. This matter should be dismissed. The Clerk of Court should be directed to close this matter and enter judgment pursuant to Rule 58 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

2. The Clerk of Court should be directed to have the docket reflect that the Court certifies pursuant to Rule 24(a)(3)(A) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure that any appeal of this decision would not be taken in good faith. The record makes plain that the Complaint filed in this case is frivolous as it lacks arguable substance in law or fact.

3. The Clerk of Court should be directed to have the docket reflect that this dismissal counts as a strike pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g). Archer failed to state a claim upon which relief may be granted and his pleadings present an “obvious bar to securing relief.

NOTICE OF RIGHT TO OBJECT TO OBJECT TO FINDINGS & RECOMMENDATIONS AND CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO OBJECT

Archer may file objections to these Findings and Recommendations within fourteen (14) days after service.<sup>1</sup> 28 U.S.C. § 636. Failure to timely file written

<sup>1</sup>Rule 6(d) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides that “[w]hen a party may or must act within a specified time after being served and service is made under Rule 5(b)(2)(C) (mail) . . . 3 days are added after the period would otherwise expire under Rule 6(a).” Therefore, since objections may bar a de novo determination by the district judge and/or waive the right to appeal.

This order is not immediately appealable to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. Any notice of appeal pursuant to Fed.R.App.P. 4(a), should not be filed until entry of the District Court's final judgment.

DATED this 2nd day of May, 2018.
